Residential $1.75

Business $2.25

Now, you never have to miss another call while you're on the phone. With Call Waiting, a beep alerts you to another incoming call. Put the first call on hold while you answer the second. Easy to use and perfect for the busy home or office.

How to use Call Waiting:

A short beep in your earpiece while you are in the middle of a call . . . means that someone else is trying to reach your number.

Ask the first caller if you may put them on hold . . . then press and release the "disconnect button" ¹. The first caller will be put on hold and you will automatically be connected to the second caller.

Pressing and releasing the "disconnect button" for about one second will let you alternate between parties. Each conversation is absolutely private.

¹ The disconnect button is the button the handset pushes down when you hang up the phone. Some telephones have a Link or Flash key you can press instead.
